

Fall Planning & Zoning Training

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

SEQR Basics

This introduction to the State Environmental Quality Review Act includes an overview of the environmental assessment form (EAF), Type I, Type II, and unlisted actions and the sequence of making a positive or negative declaration on a project's potential to have an adverse impact on the environment. The relationship between the administration of local regulations and SEQR will also be discussed.

Walkability and Aging in Place

Creating a walkable community has benefits for people of all ages and physical abilities, especially seniors. Popular senior friendly zoning can enhance neighborhoods with a variety of housing and transportation options that can keep the Silver Tsunami as vibrant residents here in New York.

Tips on Regulating Telecommunications

Changes to federal law have placed restrictions on the extent to which local governments can regulate telecommunications facilities. But that doesn't mean the abilities of local officials to influence telecommunications towers and distributed antenna systems are pre-empted. This course aims to dispel misperceptions and answer questions about the application process for structures that nearly all of us utilize buy few of us wish to have right outside our windows.
